

The Suppression of the Divine Feminine Force: The “New” Feminists.

Glenn Tramm II., BICT MBA, FRC

“Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil. She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life...Strength and honour are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come. She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness. She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness. Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her [man] also, and he praiseth her. Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all.”¹

Morality³ - principles concerning the distinction between [harmonizing with Natural Laws, which is] good, and [not harmonizing, which is] bad.

Primarily, this work is specially addressed with utmost respect and honor to the sisterhood of the world and of the Rosicrucian Order.

The goal is to bring to their attention and simultaneously, a wider audience an illustration of what has been experienced by many for at least the last decades. The purpose is not to offend, but to inform. After all, what good does offense bring when passing a message?

In line with this, this information is not only addressed to women, but a wider audience that includes men. For them, the men, this is of a more pressing concern. For they, the women, are our hearts – literally. And, as you may already know, the heart is one of the most important organs in the body tasked with regulating and pumping – day and night without complaining – the life blood through the blood vessels of the circulatory system. In other words, women literally keep the world alive and moving!

“This is true, and far distant from a lie; whatever is below, is like that which is above; and that which is above, is like that which is below.”⁴

Therefore, when ‘heart’ is mentioned in connection to mysticism, the Divine Feminine Force, The Virgin, The Blessed Mother, Wisdom, pure Care, or Love, is used as an illustration for the relevance and importance attached to women within the majority, if not all, of the mystic writings.

On the other hand, the divine masculine force, the idea, is pure thought, word, understanding, or logic – which is a topic for another time.

It is this heart – the Divine Feminine Force – that is being suppressed. Suppression in this manner, will result in the suppression of – the heart of humanity. If we are not careful, this will push humanity morally back into the stone age.

The divine feminine force which refers to our Mothers, represents a force which is by nature, always ready and willing to carefully nurture the seed of Men into adulthood, by carrying, in her Blessed Womb, the mighty unborn children of our future.

Despite this nature of willingness, readiness and care, she has been struggling for her right to be considered an equal partner in our society for decades now, if not centuries. So long that it has become an ideology of its own, passed from generation to generation.

It is noteworthy at this point that, when equality is mentioned, the meaning it should convey to you, at least in this writing, is to have the potential to be equal in human quality.

It is easy to understand that we are all different and that Mother Nature has given us the blessing of having different “flavors” of the same kind. That is to say, our equality is in the many virtues of the human species.

Development of our human qualities are – the most important - of the many goals, we as mystics have to endeavor to achieve. As a fitted example, we are all potentially capable, of “loving our neighbors as ourselves”. This is a human quality, and in quality it is possible for all to be equal. That means that under no circumstances will a type, gender, or race of a particular kind, be superior in comparison to another. To the contrary, a true mystic abhors - wholeheartedly - these types of thoughts and actions.

Not all Feminists are equal

Flowing from all that has been established, “Classical” Feminism, was a movement with a purer intention compared to today’s “New” Feminism. “Classical” Feminism had the aim to at least give women the same rights as men. Having the same rights, pay and cooperating fully as an equal partner. That is, no Patriarchy or Matriarchy. In this sense, “Classical” Feminism is of a more noble origin and it has my full, undivided support. Up to this point, this seems to be a step towards the right direction.

Fast forward to today, “New” Feminism is a totally different concept. The aim for the “New” Feminist is to have additional “rights” for women over men, equating genders in all aspects by taking over the masculine role of men, and to make matters worse, they want Matriarchy to replace the current Patriarchy.

It is clear that their agenda is revolution – which is going around in the same cycle – and not evolution – which is going forward for the betterment of the whole.

The “New” Feminist’s agenda is to make the feminine force the overarching force in society which is in principle the status quo we have with the sole difference that the masculine force is presently the overarching force.

The relevant question should be - What good does that bring for humanity as a whole, if we replace the current “devil” with another “devil”?

It should be understood and addressed to humanity as a whole that Both are deceptive, not ideal and (will) bring society in an imbalanced condition. Every imbalanced condition brings chaos as a result – look around you carefully and attentively.

Care

It has come to my attention that many mystics find the status-quo a natural progression. In other words, the dynamics between the forces of ‘good’ and ‘evil’ pushes humanity automatically into the ‘right’ direction and that their involvement is not really needed. This is true yet false.

- True – because these forces indeed push humanity to the right direction anyways.
- False – because humanity has a choice from two Paths. The Path of pain and suffering and the Path of harmony and joy.

Their position is that the occult⁵ knowledge they acquire is to increase their “powers” or to only develop themselves. There is also a similar behavior in the Church. The idea that once you are “saved” that we can somehow only pray to The All (God) to solve our problems. The modus operandi of these type of people become evidently a passive one in relation to humanity even though their intentions might be good.

“Do not forsake wisdom, and she will protect you; love her, and she will watch over you. The beginning of wisdom is this: Get wisdom. Though it cost all you have, get understanding.”⁶

⁵ Note: the word ‘occult’ comes from Latin ‘oculus’ meaning eye. So, basically, the ‘occult’ actually means knowledge hidden from the eyes. Has nothing to do with evil, bad or danger as we many times connect these ideas to this word. Even though it is possible to use the knowledge for malevolent purposes.

⁶ New International Bible version, Proverbs 4:6-7

Being passive automatically forces humanity into the path of pain and suffering. It is humanity's right to, at least, understand that they have another choice. The choice of harmonizing with the Divine Creator's Will or Natural Laws. This is true morality and the Path of harmony and joy. Mystics have the right and the obligation to increase the consciousness of humanity in this regard. It is from this perspective that the Biblical Scripture tells us to love the Divine feminine force, which is Wisdom, and to not forsake her.

In Kabbalah, they say that human correction happens when each individual reaches the 'point in the heart' – which is a desire for harmony with the Creator indifferent of the type of desire one has. All those who are well versed in Kabbalah will immediately recognize the “Chokmah”, in this verse, the second Sephiroth, which is Wisdom, and the “Binah”, the third Sephiroth, which is Understanding. This, of course, points us to the dynamic between the Divine Male and – Female 'emanations' of our Creator.

Martinists call this the 'way of the heart' – the establishment of an alchemic marriage between the individual's - and the Creator's desire – which is, the Divine Will or Natural Laws. Again, pointing to the dynamics between the Divine Male and – Female.

The learned-ones, the sages, the misfits, that went before us reinforced the need to Care, to Love. It is from the heart that one can do all these. Those who care will act automatically. Currently the majority of our society function mainly through reasoning only.

We can infer this because we live in a patriarchic society. The females, hence also the Divine Feminine Force, of our society are being suppressed. The reason why the Divine Feminine Force, which is 'Care', and 'Love', is being suppressed is because without this alchemical component, the harmony within the Divine Trinity will be destroyed – Male (Logic, Thought, Word), Female (Love, Care), and Child (Action, Will). As an example; Logic without Love or Care leads to too much severity. This is why the current patriarchic society struggles so much to be a sustainable system. We know now that this system will not prevail. Combine logic with care and the actions from this fusion will result into righteousness, peace and joy.

Do nothing, and you can see our world evolution happens with pain and suffering. Be active in increasing our world's consciousness then we might have a chance to see the world evolution as a beautiful, and beneficial experience.

"For our personal advancement in virtue and truth one quality is sufficient, namely, love; to advance humanity there must be two, love and intelligence; to accomplish the Great Work there must be three love, intelligence, and activity. And yet love is ever the root and the source."
